CVAPC Moves For Widening Of Highway 111

Members of the Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee last night declared their unanimous intention to "march on Sacramento, if necessary" to promote action on their year-old request for widening of Highway 111 from Palm Springs to Indio.

In one of the biggest member turnouts in committee history, more than 50 highway area businessmen lined up behind a resolution introduced by Palm Desert realtor Hal Kapp to strengthen the CVAPC demand for immediate action.

FEARS THAT their highway program might end with plans "dictated by someone else" — namely, the State Division of Highways — members quickly and unanimously approved the resolution intended to convey the solid unanimity of highway property owners.

But County Planning Director Tyler Suess mollified the committee's warlike attitude with the calm assurance that the state is not seeking to dictate or force any unwanted freeway on the desert area.

SUESS, NOTING that the Highway 111 area is the county's "only serious problem" told committee members that the division of highways intends to cooperate with property owners and is waiting only for an alternate desert freeway plan before starting work on the proposed widening project.

Suess urged the committee to "work cooperatively" with state engineers for the careful planning of a "scenic highway" that may see the beginning of construction by fall.

KAPP'S RESOLUTION, created by a special committee on a "master plan of highways from Palm Springs to Indio," urged that the CVAPC "take all necessary and immediate steps" for creation of a "boulevard type of highway improvement."

The resolution, reaffirming a similar draft adopted on Feb. 20, 1957, also asked the CVAPC to "insist" that the State Division of Highways establish a freeway site completely separated from Highway 111 at the earliest possible date.

Mike Todd Rites Conducted in Chicago Today

CHICAGO — Mike Todd, 50, known to millions around the world for his spectacular shows, was buried today in his family lot in a suburban cemetery with the public crowding in on all sides.

The last rites for Todd, a Jewish service, were conducted by Rabbi Abraham J. Rose of Congregation Knesseth Israel of Elgin at the graveside. A fence held back hundreds of curious onlookers along Roosevelt Road, a busy highway barely 500 feet away, but other hundreds poured into the cemetery.

His beautiful widow, actress Elizabeth Taylor, flew from Los Angeles today for the rites. She was at the graveside with her son, Mike Jr., his brothers, David and Frank Goldbogen, his sister, Mrs. Sheila Stender, and a few other associates and friends.

They gathered behind protective canvas screens at the grave in Waldheim cemetery in Forest Park.

Scott, often called "Mr. Los Angeles," was stricken with a series of ailments stemming from a fall earlier this month.

MARK GLASS DOORS AND WINDOWS, BAR ASSOCIATION ASKS

The Riverside County Desert Bar Association today asked the building departments of various desert area cities to enact codes requiring provision of cross bars "or other marking insignia" for full-length glass doors and windows.

Aimed at floor-to-ceiling glass areas in commercial establishments, the association resolution was directed to Palm Springs, Indio, Coachella and Blythe.

Association officials explained that the markings should be placed "so as to give warning of the presence of said doors and windows."

The reason — an "increasing number of collisions with such doors and windows by unsuspecting and unwary pedestrians."

Dulles Rejects Moscow's Summit Terms As Too High a Price to Pay

A REASSURING HAND is given by Union Attorney Lionel Richman as he talks with Joe Wollam, head of the local Culinary and Bartenders Union office, while he is being booked into city jail yesterday afternoon. Arrested with him was his brother, Tutor Wollam, who was driving the car on which loudspeakers were attached, and they are accused of broadcasting that persons should not patronize Lyons Prime Rib House. Today, the complaints against the two brothers were changed from a violation of the city code to two violations of the Penal Code. Action is also expected to be taken against the union for violation of a restraining order issued by the Superior Court. (Desert Sun Photo.)

City Changes Charges Against Two Union Men

The City of Palm Springs today changed its complaints against two union men who were arrested yesterday, and will take them to court charged with disturbing the peace and refusing to disperse on a command by a police officer.

The city will not file its action under the city code section which prohibits the use of loudspeakers for advertising without first securing a permit.

JOE WOLLAM, 35, and Tutor Wollam, 29, brothers, were taken into custody by police yesterday after they set up a loudspeaker on their car in front of Lyons Prime Rib House and began broadcasting that the house was unfair and told people not to patronize the establishment.

On hand at the time of the arrest was Union Attorney Lionel Richman, who secured bail for the brothers within minutes after they were booked at the police station.

Don Hartman Memorial Services Held

Famed Producer Dies in Sleep At Home Here

Private memorial services were conducted this morning for motion picture producer Don Hartman at the home of his friend, Dore Schary.

Hartman, 57-year-old former production chief for Paramount Studios, died in his sleep Sunday at 1336 San Lorenzo Road, his Palm Springs winter home for years.

EXACT CAUSE of death is being determined by autopsy. A fire department resuscitator squad, called when Hartman was found dead at about 1 a.m., failed to revive the producer.

Hartman's death ended a career that spanned more than 30 years, starting with his first stage role as a boy soprano at his father's movie house in his native Brooklyn.

AT THE TIME of his death, Hartman was operating his own production company, formed in February 1956, which released through Paramount. His independent productions include the screen version of Eugene O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elms" and "The Matchmaker."

His early years were marked by a progression of jobs that included the role of entertainer on the old Catskill Mountains "borscht circuit," bell-hopping in a Chicago country club, teller at a New York bank and, subsequently, truck driving, speculating in Texas oil and serving as manager of an Ohio Oil Company branch.

RESUMING HIS state life, Hartman joined the Dallas Little Theater and springboarded to New York in 1929 for his Broadway debut as Andy Hardy in the play "Skidding."

Turning to writing, Hartman authored "Romance in Manhattan," which RKO bought for the Ginger Rogers starrer. He later wrote the famed "Road" series for Bing Crosby and Bob Hope at Paramount, and also penned the screenplays "Up in Arms," "Wonder Man," and "The Kid from Brooklyn" for Danny Kaye.

Ike To Ask Funds For Unemployed

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower will ask Congress late today or Wednesday to provide federal funds permitting states to extend the period of unemployment compensation benefits by 50 per cent.

This was disclosed by Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland after a White House conference between Eisenhower and GOP legislative leaders.

MEANWHILE, THE Senate called up for debate another anti-recession bill—a measure providing for commitment of $5,500,000,000 for federal highway construction this year.

Knowland said federal funds provided for stretching out unemployment benefits would be repaid to the Treasury in one or two ways: The unemployment administrative tax on employers could be increased 50 per cent from 0.3 to 0.45 per cent starting April 1, 1961; or states could pay back the money from unemployment benefit reserve funds if they are large enough.

THE EMERGENCY administration plan would continue in effect until April 1, 1959, Knowland said.

The number of weeks of unemployment pay varies from states to state. The average is 26 weeks. The administration plan would increase this to 39 weeks for an individual who was out of work that long.

Knowland also disclosed that Eisenhower will submit to Congress within "the next day or two" legislation designed to speed up federal purchasing during the remainder of this fiscal year and in the 12 months after July 1.

NAMING OF DESERT CIRCUS Deputies for Palm Springs' 22nd Annual Desert Circus Week, April 16 to 20, got off to a flying start yesterday when beautiful George Ann Carter, of Fort Worth, Texas, was deputized by co-champion Ray Ryan. Mrs. Carter, whose husband, Amos Carter Jr., owns the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, said she was proud to be the first deputy chosen to represent the great state of Texas in the "Palm Springs Salutes Texas" circus festival. Merchants Divided on Fee Doubling for Auditorium

A survey to determine whether a convention auditorium should be built with funds received by the doubling of business license fees, has been about 25 per cent completed, and does not indicate that local merchants are "overjoyed" at the prospect of having their business fees doubled.

The proposition was suggested to the City Council by the Chamber of Commerce, and was returned to them so that a survey could be conducted first among the businessmen.

MORE THAN 1,000 questionnaires were sent out, and to date a tally of the cards returned shows 153 votes for the convention hall plan and 116 against.

The City Council discussed the matter again at the luncheon meeting yesterday at the Chi Chi restaurant. It indicated that it did not approve of the manner in which the survey was taken, explaining that it would be difficult for a merchant to vote against such a proposition and to have to sign his name to the vote.

YESTERDAY THE PALM Springs Hotel Association passed a resolution backing the increasing of license fees for the new auditorium, and became the second independent organization to take this step. The Retail Merchants had previously asked this action.

Manager Jimmy Cooper has extended the time for the return of cards to the Chamber offices until next Thursday, when he will go to the board with the report on the balloting.

'U.S. Would Lose Shirt Before Meet'

Did Not Rule Out Conference If Reds Relent

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today flatly rejected Moscow terms for a summit meeting as far too high a price for the Free World to pay.

The Soviet price, if paid, would mean that the United States would lose its shirt even before a summit parley were called, Dulles told a news conference.

DULLES SAID SOVIET notes regarding a summit meeting are becoming increasingly harsh. If these notes are a preview of a summit parley, Dulles said, it would be better not to have any East-West conference at the summit. But he did not entirely rule out a summit meeting — if Moscow lowers its price tag.

In a note delivered to the U. S. Monday, Moscow held firm on its previous demands on a summit meeting. These demands previously had been rejected by the U. S.

THE SOVIETS called for a preliminary foreign ministers conference next month which would only arrange topics, participants, time, and place for a summit meeting.

The Soviets ruled out any real advance discussion of basic issues dividing East and West. The U.S. holds that such discussion is a vital preliminary to a summit meeting.

DULLES TOLD newsmen that the Soviets are trying to exact a terribly high political price as a condition to having a summit parley. Asked whether this price is "too high as it now stands," Dulles said flatly that it is too high.

And the secretary said that Monday's Soviet note failed to advance prospects for a summit meeting.

READING FROM a prepared statement, Dulles listed five Soviet "price tags" as follows: Treating Eastern European satellite governments and western sovereign states on the same basis; accepting the "legitimacy" of the Eastern German puppet regime; acquiescence in the continued division of Germany; and ending four-power responsibility to reunify Germany.

Dulles also said the Soviets are trying "further to weaken the United Nations," and to formulate items for a summit meeting in such a way that "virtually every item—nine out of 11—implies acceptance of a basic Soviet thesis that the western powers reject."

He returned to Paramount in 1951 as the studio's production chief and supervised the making of such top-drawer motion pictures as "Shane," "Little Boy Lost," "Stalag 17," "Roman Holiday," "The Bridges of Toko-Ri," "To Catch a Thief" and "The Ten Commandments."

An energetic participant in community affairs, Hartman's interests outside the studio included promotion of the $5 million Los Angeles County Communicable Diseases Hospital building fund.

HIS INTEREST was drawn to the project after his daughter, Mimma, was stricken by polio. She later recovered.

Hartman was also a director of the Southern California Society for Mental Hygiene and a member of the public relations committee of the National Association for Mental Health.

He leaves his widow, Helen, and three children, Mimma, 27; Donna, 25, and Tim, 15.

General Motors, UAW Start Contract Talks

DETROIT — General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers, giants of the auto industry, start bargaining today on the union's demand for a share of profits.

The meeting in the General Motors Building opened industry negotiations on 1958 contracts.

On the eve of the talks, Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president heading the company's negotiators said the company hoped for a settlement without a strike.

Seaton also called for a "long-term settlement which would contribute to stability and public confidence. The union has already declared for a short-term contract to meet changing conditions.

The talks opened 46 days before the present three-year GM-UAW contract expires May 29. Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. contracts with the UAW expire June 1. Ford-UAW talks start next Monday, Chrysler-UAW negotiations a day later.

Desert Circus Headquarters Acquires Texas State Flag, Courtesy of Texans

Desert Circus Headquarters now has a Texas State Flag as a result of a story which appeared in The Desert Sun and set off a chain of events culminating in the Lone Star State Flag being flown here in a private plane from Houston, Texas. Villager Marty Kenyon brought the story to the attention of a friend from Houston, Texas, Vernon Slagle, who in turn mentioned it to Dr. Hampton C. Robinson also of Houston and who, with his wife, has been vacationing in the Village for several weeks.

DR. ROBINSON authorized his pilots, Vernon Slagle and Robert Brown, while making a visit to Houston in his private twin-engine Beechcraft airplane, to pick up the Texas flag and bring it back to the Village.

The presentation of the flag was made Saturday at Desert Air to Miss Desert Circus (Joanne Sales) by pilots Slagle and Brown with the compliments of Dr. and Mrs. Robinson.

MAC DONALD, co-chairman of the Desert Circus who initiated the search for the flag, in view of the theme of the 22nd Annual Palm Springs Desert Circus, "Palm Springs Salutes Texas," is now seeking a flag pole.

He is survived by his widow; two sons, Harold Wright of Africa and Arthur Wright of Palm Springs; a daughter, Mrs. J. J. Kerwin of La Puente, 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

DOG-GONE THIEVES GET DOG GONE WITHOUT COST

"Dog-gone," was the report of Assistant Humane Officer Earl Mull after viewing a vacant stall at the Palm Springs Animal Shelter.

But Mull wasn't cussing, he was just explaining that someone apparently climbed the shelter fence, snatched the stall gate and hoisted a captive German shepherd over the shelter fence during the night.

It was the first "break-out" ever recorded at the shelter. Humane officers believe it was the work of someone trying to spring a pal without going through channels.

A total of 3,667 students worked their way through college at Oklahoma State University last year.

New State Salute Theme Big Boost for Desert Circus

Desert Circus leaders are to be congratulated upon adoption of the idea of "saluting" one of the States of the Union each year as the "theme" for Palm Springs' big annual Circus Week celebration.

Selection of Texas as the first State to be so honored at the forthcoming event April 16 to 20 is both logical and appropriate. Largest State in the Union, it is also most appreciative of and receptive to any and all honors which might be bestowed upon it.

Inasmuch as Desert Circus Week has a traditionally Western atmosphere, visitors from the Lone Star State should feel right at home here in their ten gallon hats, jangling spurs and frontier side arms.

In addition to adding much to the merriment and entertainment during Circus Week, the "salute" to Texas should serve a practical purpose in increased attendance and widespread publicity anent the charms of Palm Springs and our great desert region.

As each annual event arrives and another State is chosen for the high honor of being saluted as the theme State during Desert Circus Week, proud natives and loyal residents from each region will no doubt be attracted here in large numbers to participate.

However, since Texas boosters are famous for their enthusiasm about being first, biggest and best in everything it is quite probable that they will set a mark in attendance and participation in this year's Circus which will stand for sometime to come.

The DESERT SUN is happy to join with the entire community in welcoming all of those fine Texans soon to be Palm Springs bound.

Desert Circus Week is one of the biggest and best Western events in all California, and what with that new Texas flavor it should be a real treat—even to Texans.

Listen for the Backfire

LOS ANGELES—Senator Bill Knowland's campaign to become the next Governor of California cannot be called jet-propelled; yet in a special way his success may depend upon a series of backfires.

First, there is the backfire or reaction to the special-interest groups in California which demand recognition of Red China. One such group is strongly inspired by an illicit profits motive—that of trading with what is euphemistically called the "China Mainland."

SOME CHAMBERS of commerce have very surprisingly endorsed this idea. A former chamber president is chairman of the anti-Knowland Republicans, known as Republicans-for-Brown, Attorney General Edmund (Pat) Brown being the Senator's opponent.

Another group is inspired by the familiar affinity of the American Left Wing for Communist causes. The Demo-Laborites of this State are rabid for taking Communist China in to the lodge of civilized nations.

KNOWLAND'S HATRED of Red China is itself a rabid thing, but this good or is it bad for political purposes here on the Pacific coast? The curbstone opinion is that Californians, if properly aroused at election time, will react violently against Communist-coddlers and in favor of Candidate Knowland.

Next, there is the backfire against certain California business groups which are anti-Knowland because he is known to be incapable of exerting himself in their interests. Many of these businessmen are Republicans and they have become accustomed to seeking, if not always receiving, a number of accommodations from the head of State.

WITH KNOWLAND, there is no use coming around with cupped-hands gestures. The big, stolid, strangely solitary Senator is deaf, dumb and blind in matters of favoritism, as many of his friends can testify.

Again, is this good or bad? Certainly, Knowland will miss the votes and financial support of some Republicans who ought to be with him in this fight.

A peculiarity of the California campaign is that Democrat Pat Brown is a well-liked and amiable fellow who in many years of public life hardly ever made anybody angry with him. Conservative businessmen are quite content to accept Brown as Governor and this is against Knowland's chances of success.

BUT WHAT IF the California people at large come to see in Knowland a man who will do no favors to business? Will they not react in Knowland's behalf?

Then, there is a whispering campaign against Knowland. Insinuation is made that Knowland is responsible for the continued imprisonment of Americans in Red China. The inference is that the Senator's opposition to recognition of the Communist regime has been effective.

This is true enough. If Knowland would agree to the recognition, it probably would soon come to pass. Thus, it is being whispered that Knowland could bring the prisoners home if he were less hard-headed and hard-hearted.

BUT WILL THIS tortured accusation hurt Knowland or help him? Should the USA yield to Chinese blackmail? Should we bail out the prisoners at the price of yielding to Communist pressure? If Californians can be made to see Candidate Knowland standing four-square against Communism and blackmail, will it get him votes—or won't it?

Finally, there is the backfire concerned with Knowland's position on Labor affairs. In the Senator's Lincoln Day address in this city he took a position that was, if anything, stronger than that of the late Senator Taft's against the rising power of the Labor bosses. There was this passage in Knowland's February 13th speech in Los Angeles:

"ON FEBRUARY 5 at Miami Beach, leaders of the AFL-CIO marked me for political liquidation at the polls this fall. I accept the challenge. I do not evade or avoid the issue."

"As for me, I do not intend to complacently allow California to become a satellite of Walter Reuther's labor-political empire."

This is pretty rough. The use of Reuther's name (after all, George Meany is president of AFL-CIO) is a calculated invitation to grim battle.

THE TERMS "satellite" and "labor-political empire" are ways of equating Reuther with Communism, although Knowland may not have meant to go that far. But it is past all denying that Knowland has made this gubernatorial election a total war between himself and the established heads of the Labor movement in the United States.

Well, how will Californians react? Like Ohioans did in 1950 when they reelected Taft by 400,000 votes? Or otherwise?

At this writing Knowland is behind in the campaign. But we have not yet heard from all these backfire possibilities.

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

This week you have
A chance to aid,
To help put us in
The Big Parade.

Easter parade: No. Circus parade? Another no. Rose parade: "That's the one. Jan. 1, 1959."

THAT'S THE PARADE that will put us in the public eye come next Jan. 1 at Pasadena.

If it's a beautiful float—and it's bound to be if it comes from Palm Springs—millions of people in person and on TV will oh and ah.

And we'll get more publicity in two hours than in probably all the rest of the year.

YOU CAN HELP and be a part in this great event. The Palm Springs Float Association has set aside March 28, 29 and 30, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, for a drive to enlist volunteers in the association to help defray the cost of a Rose Tournament Parade float which will really be Palm Springs.

It's going to cost about $15,000 to do this and the float association figures on getting half of this amount in by Sunday night. The going will be easier after that.

SO WHEN THEY ask you, just figure you are helping yourself when you help Palm Springs. When you get that Palm Springs bit of beauty floating down Colorado street and over the air waves of all the big TV chains to be planted in untold millions of public eyes, you can say:

"I helped put it over and I'm glad."

AGAIN THE WORD "bridge" pops up in the news of the Village.

It took a long time to get a wider bridge across Tahquitz creek and a longer time to get any kind of a bridge across the wash at Araby.

But it looks like it's going to take even longer, if ever, to get one in the 200 block on North Palm Canyon.

City council has taken a dim view (seems I've heard that expression before) of a proposal to establish a bridge palace here. Not because it believes that the ruffling of cards is necessarily evil but because so many people will want to park inside that there'll be no room to park outside.

This is one bridge council crossed before it got to it. It announced it was going to deny the permit.

SEEMS LITTLE THINGS play a major role in our lives. Like the quaint character who sat next to me in the club car of SP's Sunset last week.

"Remember the poem about the monarch who lost his kingdom for want of a nail? Horse-shoe nail, that is. Seems his horse couldn't do battle with one heel flopping like the shoes some of the girls wear these days," he said.

"Look what might have happened to this country. Supposing the redcoats had gone on a binge the night before they charged up Bunker Hill. Come up with their eyes all blood-shot. No whites. We might still be a part of England."

Just then, thank goodness, we pulled into the Union Station.

Things I never noticed while floating down the Rhine: A German magazine comes to hand this breezy March morning. The breezy editors are on their toes all right.

The average German lady, they said, measures just double the size of an international beauty queen—from pistol pocket around and back, again, that is.

THIS IS QUITE a comedown for a country making a comeback. The editors pictured a few international queens to prove their point. (And possibly to improve the circulation.) They then printed a few economy-size, average German girls.

The beauty queens slipped into one column. But the average girl took up two. What with the present cost of newsprint, picturing average German ladies is expensive. You can see that.

WELL, ALL OF THIS comes to mind because it is the season of queens. And when I was getting the left-to-right for the dailies, nothing pleased me more than a queen assignment.

Most queens are pictured in what they are queens of. We photographed queens in cabbage leaves; queens in potato chips. We took down their statements. "I have always dreamed of being Orange Peel Queen," they said dreamily.

"WHY IS THAT, dreamboat?" we asked. "What led your dreamy little noggin to such a conclusion?"

"Because the Greater Orange Peel Association gives you a free trip to Hollywood."

The orange peel press agent would then peel off a few hand-out sheets. Telling how orange peel adds vitamins to an old-fashioned and such. We would back the queen up against the light and photograph her in her orange peel costume—on a diet immediately. They were shocked by their own survey.

It sounded like old times to me. When the milkman came, I had got out the old tape measure.

Just measuring the linoleum," I told him. Not wanting to be found in such a sentimental mood.

HE REFUSED to put his arms around Miss Germany at the Frankfurt Auto Show. But possibly he has a short reach. The German magazine said all German ladies should go on a diet immediately. They were shocked by their own survey.

IT WAS AN instructive life and healthy. Most of it was out-of-doors and you got a lot of free vitamins.

All our queens measured 36-24-36 from top to bottom, as you might say. And sometimes this was verified by the press agent. He would seize a tape measure and lasso the queen, calling off the numbers in a triumphant voice as he went along.

IF YOU KNEW the press agent well, sometimes he would let you do the measuring. The lady standing there all fresh and triumphant, gazing into the sunset. And you with the old tape measure as cool as you please!

Ah, well, memories, memories. We did not have much job security. But what a job. I have not measured a queen for ages. But feel sure that I could pick it up again in no time. The trick is the way you flip the measure around her and catch it on the other side. But enough of such technical talk.

THE QUEEN business has sort of gone downhill, it seems to me lately. Very few queens in our news. Gone, but not forgotten. Fare-thee-well.

On the German side, I gather that queens are all the rage—that is the reason for the outburst in the German blot. They are perturbed because Germany is crowning sausage queens, beer queens, sauerkraut queens.

And they are having a hard time finding the 36-24-36.

It seems that most queen applicants run about 36-24-72.

FEDERAL PRESIDENT Heuss put a big blast on queens.

"Instead of chasing pretty girls with a tape measure," he said in the magazine, "Germans would do better to read more good books and listen to good music."

He refused to put his arms around Miss Germany at the Frankfurt Auto Show. But possibly he has a short reach. The German magazine said all German ladies should go on a diet immediately. They were shocked by their own survey.

It sounded like old times to me. When the milkman came, I had got out the old tape measure.

Just measuring the linoleum," I told him. Not wanting to be found in such a sentimental mood.

EARL WILSON:

Press Agent Stunt Gal

NEW YORK—Press agents are the craziest people. And Joyce Greller—who hopped on stage at the show, "Look Back in Anger," and slugged the star, Kenneth Haigh—now admits that she's been a press agent on B'way and also in Chicago where they're even crazier.

"But I wasn't employed for his stunt—though maybe I ought to send them a bill!" said the "female Jim Moran" when her story came out.

In Chicago she got arrested for painting the city's underpass and threw a raffle party to raise money for her fine—first prize: a dental chair. She had filched Park Dept. stationery and written out a "permit" which read:

"This will acknowledge that permission has been asked to paint the underpass."

It didn't say permission had been granted. But cops don't read carefully. Several looked at the "pass" and grunted "O.K."

Once she took a horse to the Chicago subway. "You can't do this!" said The Law. "Show me any law that says you can't take a horse on the subway!" she challenged.

A messenger needed a permit to take a typewriter out of a building. "I'll give you a note," she said, and wrote this: "Dear Watchman: Don't let this man out of the building. He steals typewriters."

While working for the Chicago night club, the Blue Note, she undertook to publicize Liz Miles, the New Orleans singer, by having her go to the top of the Wrigley Building and sing, "Bill Bailey, Will You Please Come Home."

About five Bill Baileys responded. While studying journalism at the University of Missouri, she got the idea of doing a replica of Grauman's Chinese Theater at a school club for a homecoming decoration.

She persuaded the owners of the handsome lawn that the concrete which would be laid there would be easily removed.

"That was about '32," she said. "I think they're still hacking away at that concrete trying to get it up."

Denying, despite all this, that she engaged to do the recent stunt, Miss Greller admitted she'd once worked for B'way Press Agent Ade Kahn.

"I didn't like the work so I got even," she said. "I threw an envelope out a car window with a note on it that said, 'This has to get to Ade Kahn by 6 o'clock or he won't find out about the bomb in time."

"It's a funny thing," she continued, "but you can throw a letter out a car in N.Y. and it'll be delivered. It's a wonderful way to mail letters. Well, the police wouldn't let him move for two days!"

The Liberace and Jane Powell performances scheduled in Havana have been postponed by the Capri and Riviera Hotels because of the political unrest...

Judy Garland has a maid, butler and nurse for herself and children at the beautiful cottage in Neponsit, Queens, which she rented for her stay at Town & Country... Hugh O'Brian dated Dona Westphal and complained something was wrong with her TV set. She finally found out what it was—it didn't have his program on.

Jack Carter mentions the new book by John Foster Dulles: "Where Did You Go?" "Out?" "What Did You Do?" "Nothing..." Pan Mail: Earl, you are a cad for printing Paulette Goddard's age. She is a lovely woman no matter how old—Mrs. G. Zinck, Newburyport, Miss.

TV-hater Jed Harris recently said, "The only thing that will save motion pictures is 'Playhouse 90.'" A famous producer cornered Harris and said, "I'm told that you said I am a dirty-no-good heel." Replied Harris: "I've never been that complimentary about you."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... Rita Hayworth went to see a doctor about a sprained ankle—and the rumors spread that she was expecting. "The minute it's true," said bridegroom Jim Hill, "I'll be so happy I'll tell everybody..." Virginia Graham met a B'way playboy who takes so many sleeping pills, when he breathes on you, you doze off... Meredith Willson's fixing up "Little Lord Fauntleroy" for a TV spec for next fall—and wants Eddie Hodges, 10, of "The Music Man," for his star.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "One of the advantages of youth is that you haven't already seen those movies they show on TV." —Maurice Seitter, Quote.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: At a swank restaurant a guy told his wife, "Enjoy your dinner, dear, but remember, we have to leave here promptly at 10:45."

A television set was advertised for sale: "Had only one owner—a little old lady who only watched Lawrence Welk." That's earl, brother.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Most Unusual Premiere

HOLLYWOOD—Most unusual premiere of the year is the one planned by Clark Gable and Burt Lancaster for their new movie, "Run Silent, Run Deep."

The submarine movie gets its first screening March 31 in a submarine off San Pedro Harbor.

The Warner Brothers' Italian cashier—the guy who handles the payroll for the extras working in "The Nun's Story" in Rome's Cinecittà Studio—is named Franco Sinatra...

Anita Ekberg and Jack Palance. Now there's a team. They'll team up to star in "Two-Headed Spy" for the Warner Freres. And this particular "Spy" will be shot in England.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN, blown up like a poisoned dog over his big European box-office earnings from his anti-American "King in New York," will next make a movie about a Joan of Arc-type Irish biddy who has visions. Janette Scott, who did "No Highway" here with Jimmy Stewart a few years ago, will play the biddy.

Tranquillizer-pill salesman crying on Jerry Lewis's shoulder: "There's so few pictures shooting in the studios I can't sell anybody because everything's so tranquil AWREADY!"

THE EYES OF TEXAS Are Upon "From Hell to Texas," a new 20th-Fox picture. Them's fightin' words on the Panhandle...

Wanda Hendrix moved to Nevada. Not, warns Wanda, for a divorce but to catch up on her skiing.

A character named Troilus, on a famous occasion, said, "I am giddy—expectation whirls me round." Well, sir, you'll be giddy and whirled round too over the movie Joshua Logan has made out of "South Pacific."

It's a happy-talkin', happy-singin' boxoffice blockbuster, one of Hollywood's all-time topmost tune-films and, if not the biggest thing since woman suffrage or freedom of the press, certainly the biggest thing since King Kong knocked out that megalosaurus!

THE SIX "PACIFIC" stars—Mitzi Gaynor, Rossano Brazzi, France Nuyen, John Kerr, Juanita Hall and Ray Walston—all run away with it in turn, and the fact that six horses are running away together doesn't debar these six from constituting a tremendous, terrific team. They're Swell, they're Sensational, they're Superb, and believe me, an evening at "South Pacific" will be SOME enchanted evening for everyone who sees it. Grip-to-gaffer gab on a Metro soundstage: "I think my wife's getting tired of me—every day this week she's wrapped my lunch in a road map!"

TV TOPICS—Maurice Chevalier flew in from Paris two days ahead of time to tune up his "Tammy" duet with Debbie Reynolds for Wednesday's (March 26) Oscar Awards telecast...

George Jessel and Jimmy Roosevelt are prompting a Robinson Crusoe teleseries to be camera'd in Cuba as a tie-in with the hotel that Roosevelt is promoting down Bongoburway.

Patti Page, the Waltz Queen, clanked some coin into Miami Beach's Hotel Madison—an investment... Husband-&-wife team Chet Marshall and Karen Sharpe will have two sharp parts in CBS-TV's upcoming "The Silver Spoon." Because Chet, who doubles from acting to writing, is scripting, same.

LUCILLE BALL, that redheaded screwball, accepted the Genie Award from the Southern California Radio and TV Women's Association like this: "A genie is something that comes out of a bottle—so you should have given it to my hair!"

Bill Reynolds, who used to be tied to a Universal movie ticket, is all wrapped up for the Kelly role in Jack Webb's Pete Kelly's Blues teleseries.

If producer Nat Perrin's plans don't poop out, TV viewers will soon be roaring at Reggie Gardiner's antics in the title role of an upcoming Mr. Belvedere series, the same wacky, lovable Mr. Belvedere brought to life in the movies by Clifton Webb several years and a few thousand guffaws ago.

M-G-MOGULS, MOVED by their current success in telefilm production, are now mulling an all-the-way attack on live TV...

Bob Cummings dotted to do some ditties for Dot Records... Alexis Smith soon sashays into the starring role of another new TV series based on a movie, Mother Was a Freshman.

Eve Arden and spouse Brooks West are plotting a pilgrimage to the Brussels Fair... Jack Kelly claims he and his Maverick "brother" Jim Garner hit off so well that Jack even bought the new wall-to-wall carpeting for his home from Jim's dad.

BUT, adds Jack, at DOUBBLE the price! And what greater friendship hath any man?

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: In case some people think barbers are a bunch of numbskulls who can't do anything else, let me set them straight. It takes brains to be a barber. The licensed barber has to pass an exam that is as tough as any Pre-Med course for an Eye-Ears-Nose and Throat specialist. He has to know all about skin disease and scalp disease and anatomy. I'll wager a good barber could make as fine a set of dentures as a dentist, but I'd like to see a dentist who could give a man a decent haircut.

FIRST RATE BARBER DEAR FIRST: My barber is the only man I want in my hair and my dentist can stick to the same old grind.

DEAR ABBY: I've got a complaint against my son-in-law. We live in the same house which happens to be my house. He is wonderful to me but the trouble with him is that on Sunday he walks around all day in his pajamas. I spoke to him and my daughter and she says he is comfortable and he says the same thing. Should I start walking around from Friday to Monday in my nightgown to show him how terrible it looks.

MOTHER MAE DEAR MOM: Walkie around in your nightgown will not stop him from walking around in his pajamas... It probably will give him the idea that it's perfectly all right. Have you ever thought of buying your son-in-law a bathrobe?

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I am just a silly old fool, but I am 39 years old and have buried two husbands. I am so in love with a handsome white-haired old gent of 74 that I can't sleep nights for thinking about him. He's had two heart attacks and they say everything comes in threes. When he leaves me I cry like a baby for fear he will die in his sleep and I won't be with him. Please, Abby, what shall I do? I know he loves me, but he is too proud to ask me to marry him on his social security check and I know if we live on my assets my family will say I bought myself a husband.

A LADY IN LOVE DEAR LADY: If you love each other, tell it to the preacher? Put your assets and his social security check in a box—shake it up and share it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 14 who always had a pretty fair complexion. I started going with a boy also 14 and he has pimples all over his face. My mother says she doesn't see how I can stand to kiss him. I am getting a few pimples on my face and my mother says I get to quit this boy because I am getting the pimples from him. Are they catching?

GETTING PIMPLES DEAR GETTING: Pimples during the adolescent years are usually normal and not catching. Keep your face clean and go to see a skin doctor.

DEAR ABBY: I work for a man who is very nice but he is getting too friendly. He keeps giving me compliments on my clothes and my figure and my hair in front of the other employees and it embarrasses me. He is married and has children. He tells me he likes me very much and I remind him of his wife. What should I do? I need this job.

DEAR DELIA: Say, "Thank you"—keep your distance, and keep on reminding him of HIS WIFE!

CONFIDENTIAL TO EARL: Don't hire her until you find out for whom this belle toiled.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Local Realtors Named to State Committee Posts

A number of local Realtors, members of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board, have been appointed to important committees of the California Real Estate Association by Clive Graham of Long Beach, president of the Association, it was announced today by Ernie Dunlevie, president of the local board.

The committees of the California Real Estate Association work throughout the year on a wide range of projects to improve the standards of the Real Estate Industry, and also for the protection of the public in the buying and selling of real estate.

Most of the CREA committees will meet in Sacramento at the Hotel Senator on March 27 and 28. More than 1,000 members of the association from all parts of the state will be in the capitol city to discuss the various current projects of the 26,000 member state association.

Planning to attend the meetings from Palm Springs are Dunlevie, Campbell and Clara de Curtini.

20 to Complete Red Cross First Aid Class Here

Twenty persons will complete Wednesday night the Standard First Aid Course conducted by the Palm Springs Branch, American Red Cross, according to Hazel Beebe and Eloise Kane, instructors.

The entire group will continue in an Advanced First Aid class, and any persons interested in taking the advanced courses are asked to call Deedee Bennett, First Aid chairman, at FA 5-6117. The local branch also announced the naming of two new members of the board of directors, Harrison Dimmitt, Disaster chairman, and Mrs. Hazel Beebe, member-at-large.

Wildflower Exhibit Started At Welwood Murray Library

By LYLE SMITH

The Desert Museum, having no roof and only half a floor of its new building is helping the Welwood Murray Library with a wildflower exhibit. And Charles Cave adds to the collection each morning. The Museum is grinding its teeth with jealousy, while politely assisting, for this is the year.

This is the year when the rains have come within the precisely required time intervals and in the correct amounts. This is the year for great gorgeous spreads of flowers on the dunes and the flat floor of the desert. And this year flowers are blooming that haven't been seen in years, for one miracle of desert plant adaption is the manner in which seeds stay viable until the climate is propitious.

THE SHOW IS JUST beginning. There is a green mist over the mountains and in the warm hollows of the sand a million million flowers are blooming. For awhile the display will become more splendid day by day.

While this is going on the Library will have specimens for exhibit and identification. It will not be complete . . . but it will help you to know what you are seeing.

The Library and the Museum went botanizing yesterday. This is what we saw.

OUT RAMON ROAD and past the High School lush sand verbenas in all shades of lavender, and Fremont's pincushion (small white perky flowers), and bright, light yellow desert dandelions, purple phacelia and desert sunflowers. It is a flowering meadowland all the way.

Beyond, on the dunes, the dune primrose (the birdcage) stretches in its millions on either side. The plants are still small and young, though fragrantly blooming with their delicate large white flowers. Some years flower hunters plow through miles of sand to find any at all.

Last year there were some, but tiny ones, with one flower each, just enough to perpetuate the species before the poor scrawny things perished in the heat and the wind.

Across the highway through Thousand Palms the sunflowers and verbenas were thick.

AT THE END OF the paved road we turned right on the "power line road," that splendid pathway without which the mudhills would be inaccessible by car from this side. Now we traveled more slowly, with many stops. One stop for the desert ground cherry, a small plant with almost metallic green leaves and a tawny yellow flower.

And there was something beyond it . . . and more. In an area one foot deep and 25 feet long on the edge of the road, we counted nineteen different flowering plants, which the Museum identified, plus one coral-pink stranger.

WHEN THE DUNES appeared, off to the right at lower number 40, we stopped again to explore. There the flowers are spread in profusion. The warm sheltering dunes have forced them earlier than on the gravel and sand slope above.

The flowers contrast to the tracings of beetles, lizards, foxes and birds on the rippled slopes of fine white sand. We found a pure verbenas, more delicate than its big lavender relation, and rare, because it doesn't belong on the desert at all.

FARTHER ALONG, the road creeps closer to the mudhills, and the flowers change. There we saw plant after plant of the most beautiful of all, the creamy-white satin blazing star, and the delicate ghost flower, and the tiny clumps of white desert star.

There were purple-bloomed indigo bushes beside the road, and in the washes, rock-rose and lupines. Where the "power line road" covers with Dillon road is a beautiful spread of verbenas with the chia, that great source of food for the Indians, just beginning to come out.

It was a glorious day. And now that the Library has learned the answers, come and ask us.

Old Trumpet

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. — (UP) — Williams College owns what is believed to be the oldest trumpet in the United States. Measuring three feet in length, the instrument dates to the 15th century. The bell of the trumpet has on it the letters SENA, the old spelling of Siena, a town in Italy, and the date of 1406 in Roman numerals. It is in the key of a modern A which may have been the C or G of that day.

The unfolding of the desert wild flowers is no more spectacular than the display of fashions being made in our area now. The eyes of the nation are on Palm Springs at this time of year, to determine what will be worn elsewhere in the months to follow. This fact is regarded by those responsible for what is seen, as an important privileged responsibility.

BARBARA, OF THE BARBARA FOSTER SCHOOL OF CHARM AND MODELING also had a modeling agency and it has occurred to her that many people perhaps do not realize what goes on behind the scenes of the FASHION SHOWS which you enjoy.

A FASHION SHOW is always very exciting, but your enjoyment might be heightened if I give you some idea of the planning and effort necessary to present such a success as the show for officers and their wives last Friday night at Twentynine Palms . . . which was coordinated by Barbara Foster and her experienced assistant, Helen Dzo.

Approximately 60 costumes were shown, and clothing from six of the local shops was used. Just the selection of dresses, play clothes, and shoes involved three full days of time for Barbara and Helen.

REMEMBER THAT each article is carefully chosen with such things to consider as . . . sizes of the models . . . colors most suitable for models . . . the stock at the shop . . . current fashion trends in style as well as colors . . . a consideration for the overall appearance of the show (no duplications) . . . and most important — what the audience will want to see.

This done, fittings begin, and interesting to note . . . a model may either accept or refuse to wear something which has been chosen for her . . . this is because Barbara realizes that a model is not effective unless she is comfortable in what she is wearing.

FINAL SELECTIONS are made and then comes the accessorizing. Just to complicate things . . . occasionally something reserved for a show several days in advance, will catch the fancy of a customer and out the dress goes . . . so a choice and fitting has to begin again.

After final decisions have been made, the entire show has to be coordinated as to line-up and models are reminded by a master sheet, which corresponds with the commentators cards, when she will appear.

SINCE I COMMENTATED this show, I will only say that it is necessary for a commentator to be well informed with details of each costume — but generally speaking, I think commentators are amiable.

For that matter, the entire display the figure attractively, the wide hem was of white linen repeated at the outlined square neckline . . . deep in its cut and above, reaching to the throat was nude chiffon . . . just the color of the wearer's skin.

CLOSING THE SHOW with a note of ELEGANT WITCHERY . . . FAYE-RENEE revealed their DR. JEKYL MR. HYDE fashion. This you must have to put excitement into your starchy summer evenings! It began with a starkly simple and innocent sheath . . . fitted like a glove and fashioned of midnight black linen, with just spaghetti straps at the shoulders (a prize in itself — to be dressed up or down).

The dramatic "other" personality consisted of an equally simple transparent cotton voile CHEMISE worn over the sheath. Its sole identification with its original partner was two bands of black linen at the hemline. The result was a floating illusion of graceful motion with no intention of obscuring the figure underneath.

All previous fashions were outstanding and the season's newest presentations . . . and they are waiting for you at FAYE-RENEE'S. (191 South Palm Canyon).

United Fund Style Show Draws Crowd

Beautiful Candlewood Room at Ocotillo Lodge was crowded Friday noon for the style show luncheon which was a benefit for the Palm Springs United Fund. Around 150 were served the continental menu which offered a plate of appetizers, chicken a la king on toast, and sherbet.

Adding a flip to the whole affair, was the appearance of Liberace, who opened the style show, wearing a handsome, bronze silk suit which he had tailored in Tokyo. The pianist, who is also a Village home owner, is just back from Australia, returning sooner than he had expected because of an abscess of the inner ear. He and Jane Powell are appearing at Chi Chi this week, following which he has an engagement at London's Palladium.

Liberace presented one of his new albums "Liberace at Home," which was auctioned off and sold to George Alexander for $45.

Pat Barbara's orchestra played the background music for the style show which was commented by Gladys, and which presented a variety of clothes ranging from swim wear, casual clothes and the tricky pixie suit from Gladys's own shop, to dressier gowns including two chemises from Faye-Rene's, with Ray's Men's Wear shop showing what the well-dressed men are wearing.

Models were: Barbara DeVoron, Mary Farmer, Frances Marington, Jo Roth, Barbara Blakeley, Martin Beck.

In the smart luncheon crowd were: Mmes. W. B. Malouf, Tom Fleming, Henry Dollard, Fred Albertson, Noble Banks, James French, James French Jr., Nate Milnor, F. C. Dougherty, James Kemper, H. H. Armstrong, Joe Hale, Sol Lesser, Norm Waters, Richard Bagdasarian, Julian Bamberger, Harold Bell Wright, Florence Horn.

A Desert Braemar group included Mmes. Norm Waters, John Guilbraith, James Torrence, Norman Phillips, F. D. Barry, Ernst Off, Richard Bainbridge, E. V. Anderson, Edward Schubert, John McClellan, Leonard Floan, Wibb Dadds, H. E. Morgan, Jane Porter.

One of the most attractive gowns shown full-skirted was a white swiss eyelet over blue sheath.

It was a pleasant show, from the surprise appearance of trim Jo Roth, dressed as an Easter bunny in a brief white bathing suit with cotton tail and a bunny hood with ears, to the parade of small girls dressed in their Easter best, that ended the show. The girls were Kim Horn, Jill Alexander, Lydia Murray, and Terri Ann Stryker.

Phantom Tea is Something New

Palm Springs Business and Professional Women's Club is planning something new, a Phantom Tea. It's a phantom, because it won't really take place, and members are being assessed one dollar for the privilege of not attending a tea, which they are going to hold. The announcement says... "There'll be no cookies to bake, no tea to make, no lemons, no cream, no silver to take" and advises that "if you have cookies on your shelf, don't bother to dress, just eat them yourself."

Invitations say to send your saving of a dollar to the treasurer Gwen Workman, 174 North Palm Canyon drive before April 1.

Visits Here

Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Dunlap are visiting his mother, Mrs. Nona Mills, 168 East Via Escuela, for two weeks. They will return then to Cameron, Arizona, where he works for Jim Maynard and Ray Ryan at their mine.

Redlands Choir Sings 'Kismet' At El Mirador

Redlands University's 40-voice choir presented excerpts from "Kismet" at El Mirador's Sunday Brunch, and were warmly applauded by the capacity crowd. Solo parts were semi-costumed and backed up by the chorus of voices as they sang the glorious songs from this popular light opera.

The Robert Howes hosted a Sunday Brunch group which included the W. B. Malouf, Tom Flemings, Don Witherbees, Franklyn B. MacCarthys, Bill Bannermans, Harold Coopers, Mrs. John L. Kellog, Ray Shelby.

Mrs. Harry Clatworthy was hostess to a party of 25 Eastern Star officers with their wives and husbands, with the party honoring the birthday of Harold Murphy. Bill Arnold was hosting a party, celebrating his own birthday, and when the sparkler-lighted cake was brought in, the guests exploded serpentine. This was a new kind that makes a noise as it explodes and shoots the colored streamers into the air.

Dr. and Mrs. Mace Gazda, who are out from Chicago for a week, were in the brunch crowd, which numbered several hundred.

Parents of Son

On the second day of Spring, March 22 at 2:17 p.m., a seven pound, nine and one half ounce son was born at Desert Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. George Pearson of 67-110 Santa Barbara Drive.

Lovick will point out the shortage of capable and qualified teachers and tell how more people can be encouraged to select teaching as a career. All parents with children in Finchy school are urged to attend as this meeting should be of great interest.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Hosts Party on His Birthday

Sunday was his birthday so Bill Arnold of Desert Braemar hosted a party at El Mirador's Sunday Brunch to celebrate. He provided gifts for his women guests and was himself surprised by a big birthday cake, arranged for by Mr. and Mrs. Norm Waters.

Arnold's guests included: Messrs. and Mmes. Waters, Fred Karlen, Roy Colegate, Gordon Prentice, Jack Russell, Ernest Anderson, Norma Phillips, Sydney Stewart, Mmes. Harrison Fisher, Jack Bligh, Walter McManus, and Mr. Robert Heustis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Combs, friends of the Hiltons, also from Portland, arrived Thursday to spend two weeks.

Playhouse To Present Alan Baxter

The name of Alan Baxter who opens tonight at Palm Springs Playhouse in "Late Love" is a familiar one to stage and screen audiences and the list of motion pictures in which he has appeared includes many of the all-time hits: "Each Dawn I Die," "Saboteur," "Rags to Riches," "The Human Comedy," "Winged Victory," "True Story of Jesse James" and "The Wonderful Years."

By the same token Baxter's stage background is impressive and it was his starring role early in his career in Harold Igo's "Steel" that brought him to the attention of Teresa Helburn of The Theatre Guild and an apprenticeship.

He has appeared on Broadway in the Pulitzer Prize play, "Men in White." The lead in "Black Pit" on Broadway resulted in a film contract with Walter Wanger and the start of his motion picture career.

Baxter toured with the national company of "South Pacific" for four years in the role of Commander Hobbison and later went on tour for two years with the "Tea and Sympathy" company in which Deborah Kerr played the lead.

While on tour he met Christy Palmer, also in the "Tea and Sympathy" company, and eventually they married. Miss Palmer also will be seen in "Late Love" in which her husband is a suitor for the hand of the portraitist, played by Marrian Walters, who has moved into the home of his close friend to paint the latter's portrait.

Top biscuits with paprika, celery seed, or garlic powder before baking and serve with a meat course. Or add the spice to the crust of meat pies.

Gail Goff Bride of Ralph Mills

Gail Goff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goff of 256 Palo Verde, was married Friday evening to Ralph Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mills of Indio. The two young people said their vows before Rev. Hopkins in the Coachella Valley Christian Church in Indio, with around 75 friends and relatives in attendance.

The bride wore white lace with short white veil and carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations and a single white orchid. She was attended by Joan Webster, as bridesmaid, and John Dirnberger acted as best man. Following the marriage ceremony the newlyweds were honored at a reception at the Mills home in Indio, where wedding cake and punch were served.

Among the special guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Lily Goff; her great-aunt, Zaddie Bunker, Henrietta Parker; the Phil Nagies; the bridegroom's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mills; and his grandmother, Mrs. Mills of Palm Springs.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Palm Springs High School, is an employee of Parker's Rug & Upholstery Cleaners, and the bride is in her junior year at Palm Springs High School.

The young couple have been honeymooning at Idyllwild and plan to make their home in Palm Springs, with the bride completing her high school years.

New Delta Gamma

Arlene Crowley, niece of Mrs. Earl F. Emmons of 601 East Andreas Road, and freshman at Colorado College in Colorado Springs, has just been initiated into Delta Gamma Sorority, according to word received here today.

Arlene who graduated from Palm Springs High School last year plans to fly home to spend Easter with her aunt.

Joyce Andrews Is Bride In Candle-Lit Ceremony

Tapered candles burned quietly casting their reflection on the baskets of white flowers which banked the altar when Joyce Ann Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orlan Andrews of 294 South Indian Avenue, and Francis Vernon Sauer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Vernon Sauer Sr., of 279 South Indian Avenue, repeated their wedding vows. The double ring ceremony performed by Reverend James A. Blackstone was held Friday evening, at the Community Church at 8 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, Orlan R. Andrews, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of imported Swiss lace and satin. Her headpiece, which matched the lace of her wedding gown, was embroidered in seed pearls and caught up her waist length wedding veil. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations with white satin streamers.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Kenneth Christensen of Kenniwick, Washington, and serving as best man was the groom's brother, Harlow James Sauer.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with family and close friends in attendance. The beautifully decorated tiered wedding cake was served to the guests along with punch.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Seth Montague and family of Kenniwick, Washington, a sister of the bride. The groom, who attended school in Burbank, served with the United States Marine Corps for three years and was stationed for 14 months in Japan.

The new Mrs. Sauer is a graduate of Palm Springs High School. Following a honeymoon to the beach cities the young couple will make their home in the Village where he is employed by Associated Builders.

ONCE UPON A TIME there was a peacock sitting in a tree crying his eyes out. A passerby asked him why.

"Because I've had my tail feathers clipped," answered the blubbering bird. "Yesterday I bought a low-priced car without bothering to check other makes. Today I discovered Mercury is bigger, more powerful and costs less. See what happens when you strut off half-peacocked?"

Mrs. Ruth Hannaford Weed of Coachella, 67, a mild-mannered, soft-spoken woman who thought she had never done anything important or unusual, has been named California Mother of 1958, it was announced today by the selections committee, who met in Palm Springs.

Mrs. Weed will be honored in April, when Governor Goodwin J. Knight has proclaimed the week of April 28th as Mothers Week, during which time special honor will be paid to the 1958 State Mother.

She was chosen for the honor out of a group of 12 acceptable nominations, each of whom will receive a citation and award of merit from the American Mothers Committee. This week which will wind up with the Police Show Saturday night . . . and the Press Club buffet on Sunday night . . . starts off quietly enough . . . Last night friends and cronies of Desert Sun's Phat Graettinger gathered in the cocktail lounge at the Desert Inn to wish him well on the occasion of his 70th birthday . . . Tonight Alan Baxter opens in a new play at the Playhouse with the First Nighter dinner at the Chi Chi . . . Tonight too is the haywagon ride and chuckwagon dinner that El Mirador stages each Tuesday night . . . Tomorrow night's Bavarian Beer Festival will be special . . . as Ray Ryan is hosting another big party . . . This one will be a birthday party for Winsome Courtney . . . And numerous private parties are on the calendar for week's end . . .

Bobbie and Bill Perlberg were in the Big Town Thursday night for the gala premiere of the Perlberg - Seaton film "Teachers Pet" . . . which was a benefit performance for the 8 Ball Foundation of the Greater Palm Springs Press Club . . . The film, which stars Clark Gable and Doris Day . . . drew rave reviews . . . and was followed by a Press Club party in Coconut Grove . . . where Elsinore Machris, founder of the Desert Press Club at Palm Springs, was an honored guest . . . The Gables were expected down as the weekend guests of the Perlbergs and for their Saturday night party at their Avenida de Las Palmas home . . . but didn't make it . . .

The party honored Nancy and Henry Itleson (he's president of the Commercial Investment Trust Company of New York) . . . who are vacationing here at the Racquet Club . . . The Perlberg home was transformed into a French bistro . . . with french music and food . . . with bottles of wine on the tables and a printed french menu . . . Jack Boyer prepared the supper . . . and the musicians were one of Joe Moshay's orchestras from Los Angeles . . . The hostess, who has painting as a hobby . . . provided canvases and oil paints and the guests all collaborated on one huge painting . . . giving a true Montmartre atmosphere . . .

Among the 45 guests . . . who were bidden to come dressed informally, were . . . the Buddy Adlers, Alice and Phil Harris, the William Edrises . . . Sam Spiegels, Huber Boscowitzes, Raymond Loewys . . . Eddie Silvermans, Harry Joe Browns, Nuni and Joe Hall . . . Jimmy Van Heusen, Don Stralem, Bill Haines, John Morris . . .

A postcard from Ned and Joann Crawford from Acapulco . . . says they like it there so well . . . they may never come back . . . Another from the traveling Charlie Millikens comes from Punta Arenas . . . most southern city in the world (that's what the card says) . . . Charlie and Ruth are on the Gripsholm cruise around South America . . .

A wire from San Francisco from Ann Todd Dashi . . . tells of the wedding of John O. Todd Jr. to Edith Ann Avery formerly with NBC . . . daughter of G. B. Avery of Millbrae . . .

Anita Haskell Jones tells me that she's been over to Desert Hot Springs to visit Ona Brown . . . Ona's in the Encanto rest home there . . . and Anita was happy to find her well on the road to recovery . . .

Harry Joe Brown's just back from his home town of Benton Harbor, Michigan . . . where he was feted at a banquet . . . given the key to the city . . . and generally given the red carpet treatment for one of Benton Harbor's favorite sons . . . Many of his old high school friends were in the crowd of 600 that turned out for the testimonial dinner . . . which was given by the Elks . . . Harry Joe brought home a plaque, a gold key and a lot of newspaper clippings to remind him of a very pleasant affair . . . and the whole thing couldn't have happened to a nicer person . . .

Harry Joe who's an old timer in Hollywood . . . has produced over 300 feature pictures . . . of which the most recent is Randolph Scott's new one "The Name of the Buchanan" . . . Because of the volume of his television work he limits himself to three pictures a year now . . . and those are westerns . . . It hasn't always been that way though . . . Harry Joe's the man who produced "Alexander's Ragtime Band" with Alice Faye and Tyrone Power . . . and all the Irving Berlin music . . . and he did "Captain Blood" with Errol Flynn and Olivia De Havilland . . . and "Hollywood Cavalcade" . . . which is the one he most enjoyed . . . Here's a man whose career has spanned that of Hollywood itself . . .

Harry Joe stopped off in Chicago on his way home and lunched with the Jimmy Harts . . . who expect to be out here in May . . . and with Ed Rothbart who will be back soon . . .

Helen Braunschweiger, who had to miss the WAIF Ball of which she was chairman . . . because of illness . . . has been released after spending several days in Cedars of Lebanon hospital . . .

They give up their apartment at the Talmadge on the 3rd . . . and move into their new house in Beverly Hills . . . This is the one they bought from Mrs. Nate Milnor . . . then on the 10th they go to New York for 10 days . . .

Santos catering truck was drawn up in front of the Stevens Road home of Lucille and Herb Stern Sunday night as they entertained for their houseguests Mr. and Mrs. Victor Riesenfeld of New York City . . . who are returning home today after a nine day visit . . . Mrs. Stern is the author of "The Midas Touch" . . . just recently released . . . and is also a talented painter . . . with one of her new canvases on display . . .

Went on to the Chi Chi where we joined the Maloufs and the Frenches at a stagerside table for the Liberae - Jane Powell opening . . . This show will be there all week . . . and I want to tell you not to miss it . . . for everyone said it was the best they've ever seen in a night club . . .

The Starlite Room was crowded and Liberae received a warm welcome in his home town . . . giving a brilliant performance which left the audience applauding and screaming for more after several curtain calls . . . Jane Powell is beautiful and has a delightful voice . . . With such a great show . . . Schuman should have a full house every night . . .

The Eddie LeBarons arrived in the Village this week to spend at least two months at their home on Mountain View place . . . They have leased their Vereda Sur

Morris Hosts at Tennis Club

Sunshine every morning, rainfall every evening, is a pattern that held true Friday night and found most of the Howard Morris' guests arriving at the Tennis Club in a downpour . . .

The host and hostess received their guests and offered them cocktails in the lower bar lounge, moving the party upstairs to the Venetian Room for dinner . . .

Party guests joined other diners in filing past the Club's Friday night buffet, which had a startling adornment, a green alligator carved of ice, with a trout in its mouth. The buffet featured huge roasts of beef, deviled oysters on the half shell, all kinds of seafood, curried chicken, and a fantastic array of luscious desserts, including the chocolate-sprinkled whipped cream pie that's a Club specialty. The John McClures, who were entertaining the following night, were in the crowd . . .

The Walter Sibberts had his brother and sister-in-law the Ray Sibberts of Detroit with them. The Billy Maloufs were there (she wearing a white gown with big black polka dots in the back). Tom Fleming had to go back to La Jolla, but Theodora was there wearing one of those crocheted dresses she brought back from Italy this summer, becoming shade of blue, enchained by her jewelry. Joan Bering, who arrived with Ray Ryan, was strikingly beautiful in a blue and white jeweled Fontana of Rome gown. Babe Churchill was at the party, the Frank Bennets, Veva and Lester Selig, Tina and Fred Barrows, the Dolph Obergfels, Ernie Youngs, S. P. Manasses, Peg and Norm Waters, the Thorntons, George Wheelers, Maurice Horners, Sam Salingers, Julian Bambergers, Edith and Dick Edwards, Ed Robbins, Henry Della's, Bill Marceys, Dolph Bremers, Lester Seligs, Frank Ryans, Mari and Stewart Williams, Burnham Bigelow and his sister Barbara Bigelow of Portland, Maine, Bud and Vie Graves, Lloyd Franks, Grace Pope, Mrs. Frank Bering, Lynne Jennings, Bertine Treat, Adelaide Cunningham, Dorothy Ross, Winsome Courtney, Babe Churchill, B. J. Sanchez, Vivian Davies, Jan King, Frank Muller, Pierre Bouscaren, Jock Williamson, Ed McCoubrey, Bill Arnold, Bob Taliaferro, Ray Ryan, Bill Gorman, Jim Phillips, Jack Fugitt, and others . . .

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY, United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK — One jump ahead of Hollywood, which used to be in the Pacific Coast, at the absolute request of nobody we give you today the unheralded Oscar's Oscars for the outstanding sports theatrics of the year. There will be no big party. So you better read it here and let's get with it.

Best production: "Kwei Me A River," starring the Milwaukee Braves. A movie story, in technicolor, about a bunch of reformer night club patrons who beat a bunch of night club patrons while people in places like Brooklyn and Manhattan "kwid" and "kwid."

BEST ACTOR: Walter Francis O'Malley for a superb performance in "Say-oh-no-ah," which is Brooklynese for goodbye and get lost, you bum. The O'Malley was particularly convincing as a man who wanted to repay the loved ones who supported him for years but couldn't because baseball is a sport and not a business where heartstrings are used as purse-string.

Bowling

Standings were the same in today's Mixed Doubles Monday Night League as result of last night's play at the Palm Springs Bowling Academy with Dill Lumber holding the lead with a 64-36 mark and Deep Well Ranch second with 59-41. Other standings were Hoams Pools, 53½-46½; Joe Berta's, 52-48; K. W. Williams, 46-34; Jim Sharpe, 25½-74½.

Hoams Pools rolled the high team series with 1829 last night and the high team game with 675. Martha Clements rolled a 491 series to top the women and Billie Pepper, the high game with 175. For the men, N. MacDonald rolled the high series, 529 and the high game, 199.

Best supporting actor: Horace Stoneham, for his supporting role to O'Malley in "Say-oh-no-ah" and the co-lead in "Go West Young Man."

Second best supporting actor: Ray Robinson in "a farewell to harm." Unsurpassed acting talent in the 14th and 15th rounds of his losing middleweight fight to Carmen Basilio, giving birth to the theme song, "Diamonds May Be A Girl's Best Friend But A Man Can't Knock Money."

Best direction: Fred Haney in "Kwei Me A River." Superb artistry with a dubious script. Original story: Duke Snider, Johnny Podres and Don Zimmer for "we were coming home from the movies when the car left the road."

BEST SONG: "Morey, Money, Money I Love," even though it was a steal from "Tammy." Theme song of "Say-oh-no-ah."

Best short subject: Adelbert Ping Pong Alcazar, world midget wrestling champion.

Best costume design: Ricki Starr, who won by a sequin ballet slipper over "Mad Mountain" about the "Shriek" of Araby.

Best sound recording: District Attorney Hogan's office, for a thriller entitled "The Madison Square Garden Wire-Tap Case."

Special effects: Silky Sullivan, who sends shivers up and down and even around your spine when he storms down the stretch like last chow call in a boarding house.

And, in the special awards class: Best comeback by an actor, Adolph Rupp, whose "fiddlers" won the NCAA basketball championship.

Best comeback by a director: Jim McCafferty, langed twice in effigy and made them digest their dummies by winning the NIT basketball crown.

Best impersonation: Pete Rademacher, as a heavyweight challenger. Almost strong enough to challenge for "best actor" award.

Gieberger Wins Invitational in Sudden Death Play-Off

SC Junior Winner at O'Donnell

There was a newcomer among the lists of champions of the Palm Springs Invitational Golf Tournament today as Allen Geiberger, 20-year-old University of Southern California Junior, took the 23rd annual renewal of the event Sunday with a birdie on the second hole of a sudden-death play-off with a 45-foot putt to win.

At the end of the regulation 54-holes, Geiberger and Bruce McCormick, veteran golfer, who had won the event back in 1938, were tied at 199.

GEIBERGER, WHO was Southern California amateur champion in 1956 and runner-up last year, lives in Santa Barbara. It was his first appearance in the O'Donnell classic and he was a last-minute entry.

The tall SC student shot two 64s and a 71. His first round was 64, then on the second day, he carded 71 but came back Sunday with another 64 to deadlock McCormick who had a card of 67-65-67.

DR. BUD TAYLOR, defending champion and four-time winner of the Invitational, finished in third place with 68-66-69-203. He won it last year with a card of 197.

Harvie Ward, who has dined with Dr. Taylor for the past four years and who was runner-up last year with 199, and is one of the nation's leading amateurs, had trouble the first two days, shooting an 80 each time to wind up with a 75 Sunday and finish with 235, the first time he has even been 200 or over on the O'Donnell course.

GEIBERGER HAD a seemingly comfortable lead starting the last nine Sunday after a brilliant first nine of 29. But he faltered and McCormick caught him on the 17th. They halved the 18th and the first hole of the sudden-death extra play.

On the second hole Geiberger sank a 45-foot putt to register a birdie and take the honors.

With the largest entry list ever recorded and the top amateurs from many cities in the nation competing, the 23rd annual Palm Springs Invitational went down in history as the best to date.

Hogan, Snead to Play in Florida Seminole Today

PALM BEACH, Fla. — The ritzy $10,000 Seminole Pro-Amateur brought "old masters" Ben Hogan and Sam Snead out today for a couple of rounds with the boys.

Hogan and Snead, once the big guns on the tournament trail, play in few events now. But they wouldn't miss the Seminole, a colorful two-day affair faithfully patronized by the Palm Beach social set.

Hogan has been on the scene for nearly three weeks, tuning up his game.

Players entered include such stars as Cary Middlecoff and Dick Mayer, the current National Open champion.

They join such current tournament stars as young Ken Venturi, San Francisco, hottest golfer on the winter trail and Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., winner of the St. Petersburg Open last Sunday.

Indians, San Jac to Meet Tonight

George Scholl takes his Palm Springs High School Indian baseball team to San Jacinto today to start the 1958 Riverside County League season against the San Jac Tigers.

Hoad Pins Hope On Youth to Win

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Australian Lew Hoad, behind in his professional series with Pancho Gonzales for the first time on U.S. soil, today looked to youth and stamina in his bid for tennis supremacy.

Frankly admitting "Pancho is the toughest opponent I've ever met," the sturdy blonde nevertheless stuck to his guns that a seven-year difference in ages would eventually wear Gonzales down. Pancho, approaching his 30th birthday, was the major disaster. The dark-skinned Californian could point to Monday night's 6-4, 14-12 victory as exhibit one in the Gonzales case. Mixing finesse with power, Pancho breezed past Hoad in less than 25 minutes in the first set. In the second, he simply outlasted him.

After 19 straight games without a service break, Hoad muffed two easy shots, Pancho, deliberate and cat-like at a slimmer-down 180, took advantage of the lapse to move ahead 22-21 in the tour. Gonzales, who had trailed 18-9 less than a month ago, said he believed the "crisis is over."

The intense Mexican-American said he saw no reason why he should tire more in waning stages of the 93-match tour than Hoad.

Basilio Rated 9-5 to Defeat Ray Robinson

CHICAGO — Sugar Ray Robinson will try to recapture the middleweight crown from Carmen Basilio tonight in the most fabulous indoor fight ever staged—because of its riches, significance and potential thrills.

Veteran Robinson, an all-time ring "great" and unrivaled master of the comeback, will try to win the 160-pound title for the fifth time in this return 15-rounder at Chicago Stadium, attracting the second largest indoor gate of about $400,000 and the largest theatre-TV take of more than $1,500,000.

BASILIO, the tough and aggressive son of an onion farmer who took the title from Sugar Ray on a split decision last September, will try to be the first man to beat the glamorous New York boxer-puncher twice.

Carmen of Chittenango, N.Y., is favored at 9-5 to win; and if he does, the defeat doubtless will send Sugar Ray into permanent retirement—after nearly 18 years of professional fighting—at the age of 36 or 37.

Whether the great Robinson, in the sunset of his career, can salvage enough prowess to turn the tables on 30-year-old Basilio, apparently at his peak, is a question that caused a near-split in opinion among sports writers.

A UNITED PRESS poll of 48 writers here for the fight showed 27 who picked Carmen to win and 21 who predicted a Robinson victory.

Because of the uncertainty regarding Robinson's prowess and the promise of another "fight of the year" when Carmen and Ray square off at 11 p.m., e.s.t., a crowd of at least 19,000 is expected by promoter Jim Norris.

With $325,000 already in the till Monday night, Norris expected the gate to approximate $400,000 and be second only to the record indoor $422,915 drawn by Rocky Graziano and Tony Zale at the same stadium, July 16, 1947.

Each fighter will get 30 per cent of all net receipts—expected to reach at least $250,000.

Organizations, Businesses, Riders Invited to Sheriff's Rodeo Parade

Organizations, businesses as well as equestrians are invited to participate in the Sheriff's Rodeo Parade in Riverside, Saturday, May 17, it was learned today from Sheriff Joe Rice.

Invitations have been mailed to persons who have ridden in the parade in past years Victor Brittain, Sheriff's Posse Parade chairman, announced. Anyone not receiving one, may obtain one from the Sheriff's Office or by writing the Parade Committee, P.O. Box 32, Riverside.

STARTING AT 12 o'clock noon, the parade is planned to move faster and smoother this year, due to a pre-judging of the single entries at Evans Park. Organizations, floats and bands will be judged in front of the courthouse building during the parade.

Seventeen parade classes are provided in order that spectators along Riverside's Main Street will be treated to a display of outstanding horses, riders and thousands of dollars of equipment and costumes.

THE PARADE initiates a week-end of western activity including two exhibitions of rodeo events, and a "Rodeo Dance" at the American Legion Clubhouse.

Nassau, capital of the Bahamas, began as a pirate town. Buccaneer Henry Jennings and his followers found the site "a good retreat and general receptacle" for plunder.
